Update on Salmonella Cases Linked to Peanut Butter City of Milwaukee Health Department Activates Hotline 414-286-3616 to provide information on Salmonella

The City of Milwaukee Health Department (MHD) continues to increase surveillance to track possible cases of salmonella linked to peanut butter as related to the recent Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and Food and Drug Administration alert. Milwaukee residents that are currently ill after consuming the contaminated Peter Pan or Great Value peanut butter (with product code of "2111" on lid of jar) within the last 12-72 hours are asked to call their primary care physician as well as advising the MHD for tracking purposes.

Symptoms of Salmonella infection include fever, diarrhea and abdominal cramps. In addition, MHD staff are available to speak to City of Milwaukee residents Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Residents who live outside the City of Milwaukee are urged to call their primary care physician and their local health department.
